SMALL BOY BADLY SCALDED

A Kettle of Boiling Water Tipped over Little Arthur Clapp

Arthur Clapp, the thirteen year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Clapp of Burdett street, was severely scalded at his home on Friday afternoon. The lad while putting wood in a stove accidentally tipped over a kettle of boiling water that landed on his left foot on which he wore a low cut shoe, thus affording no protection against the hot water.

He was assisted as soon as possible by his mother, who, in taking off the boy's shoes and stockings, found the flesh peeling with them.

Dr. W. O. Jenkins was called and made the boy as comfortable as possible. Today the lad has much pain from the burns on the legs, as well as the foot.

MANCHESTER GREEKS

Planning to Give a Big Reception to Hon. George A. Moses

Manchester's Greek residents are discussing plans for a great reception to be tendered George H. Moses of Concord, whose nomination as minister to Greece and Montenegro has to wait formally on Mr. Moses and extend to him an invitation to come to Manchester.

PRECEDENCE AMONG BOYS

Delicate Question Among the Lads Who Sell the Papers

A bunch of newsboys lined up on Congress street on Friday afternoon attracted the attention of everybody who passed along near the store of Moses Brothers. The boys now receive their papers in turn and outside the store where the first to come is the first to be served.

It was hard for them to do business under the new rule at first and there were many hot arguments as to who was who in the file.

WHO CAN BEAT THIS?

Christian Shore Resident Gets Early Dandelions

The first man to enjoy the taste of native dandelions is probably George A. Jackson of Dearborn street. Early this week he picked a mess of the plants with the yellow flowers on the lawn near his residence and today got the second lot for a Sunday dinner.

A healthy man is a king in his own right; an unhealthy man is an unhappy slave. Burdock Blood Bitters builds up sound health—keeps you well.

KITTERY LETTER

Henry L. Lutts Is Laid to Rest

A Man At Head of the Mitchell School

Four New Motor Boat Rivals for Speedway Supremacy

James K. Philbrick a Selectman for Twenty-Two Years

Kittery, Me., April 3. The funeral of the late Henry L. Lutts was held this afternoon from his late residence, Rev. Edward H. Macy, pastor of the Second Christian church, officiating. "Abide With Me" and "Some Day We'll Understand" were sung by a quartet composed of Miss Adelaide Brown, Mrs. Percival Rogers, Mr. George Manent and Mr. Arthur S. Lane. The Masons and Odd Fellows both had services. The burial was in Orchard Grove cemetery under the direction of O. W. Ham.

The following is to be the order of services at the Second Christian church on Sunday: 10.30 a. m., preaching by the pastor, Rev. Edward H. Macy; subject of sermon, "The Coming of the King," followed by session of the Bible school. The Junior Endeavor Society will meet in the vestry at three o'clock, led by Miss Estella Kramer. At the six o'clock service of the Christian Endeavor Society Mrs. Forrest Moore will lead; subject of meeting, "Life Lessons for Me from the Book of Proverbs." At the seven o'clock service the pastor will take for the subject of his sermon "The Time for the Man and the Man for the Time."

Riverside Lodge of Odd Fellows will meet in their hall on Monday evening, when several candidates are to be initiated.

Misses Annie and Mary Hanscom were visitors in South Eliot on Thursday.

St. Aspinquid Tribe of Red Men held their regular meeting on Friday evening in Grange Hall.

The friends of Mrs. Maria Tilton are but rightly appreciative in a practical way of her long, faithful service as music teacher and organist of the Second Christian church, and also of the Congregational church of the Point. For many months playing has been out of the question, through rheumatism. Her uniform cheerfulness and thoughtfulness, however, make a call upon her a benediction. Her devoted attendant is her sister, Miss Young, now "grown weary in" necessary "well doing."

The illness of Mrs. Elizabeth Manson is of a character to cause serious concern to her many friends.

Mr. George Philbrick of Manson avenue is painfully and seriously ill. Have you gathered any pussy willows yet?

Misses Ovierte and Ethel Gerry of Commercial street have been passing a few days with relatives in and about Boston.

Mrs. Edgar Grover entertained the S. H. S. H. B. Club at her home on Love Lane on Friday afternoon.

We have the junk man and now for "the voice" of the hurdy gurdy and scissors grinder in the land. Then "Spring has come."

Mr. Samuel Keene of Government street is not so well recently.

We are glad to note the appreciation of our musician, Mrs. Charles W. Philbrick, in her recent service at the Unitarian church, Portsmouth. In return, Miss Florence Marshall of Portsmouth is evidently very acceptable as accompanist of the Choral Society of Kittery.

There was quite a fire on Thursday near Butler's Crossing but it was finally conquered by a number of railroad men.

Mr. James R. Philbrick is fast nearing the completion of his twenty-second year of service on the board of selectmen of the oldest town in Maine—Kittery.

Seven candidates for baptism from the Second Christian church will receive that rite a little later in the spring.

On Wednesday Mrs. Leslie Coffin of Pine street entertained her sister, Mrs. Herman Bond of Epping, N. H.

At the Second Methodist church on Sunday the services will be in their usual order with preaching by the pastor, Rev. Daniel Onstott at 10.30 a. m., followed by the session of Sunday school. Vespers service at five o'clock with preaching by the pastor and singing by Alfred Gogins, tenor. At six o'clock the regular meeting of the Epworth League.

Miss Addie Paul of South Eliot visited friends in town on Friday.

Tomorrow will be Palm Sunday.

A number from town attended Music Hall, Portsmouth, on Thursday evening to witness the great play "The Great Divide."

Kittery Point

There arrived in port Friday barge No. 4, Baltimore for Portsmouth, 1600 tons of coal; schooner Ruth Robinson, Theall, Boothbay for New York; ice; Silver Spray, White, Machias for New York; laths; Abbie S. Walker, Dobbin, Machias for New York; laths; Regina, Sanborn, Machias for Boston; lumber; Eugenie, Wallace, Machias for Boston; lumber; Annie M. Preble, Banker, Machias for Boston; laths; Annie and Reuben, Robbins, Stonington, Me., for Boston; granite; Priscilla (British), Granville, St. John, N. B., for Salem, Shingles. Sailed: Barge Perkaskie, Philadelph; schooner William D. Marvel, which has been hauled up all winter at Portsmouth, for Boothbay to repair.

Dr. J. D. Carty has purchased a new twenty horse-power Reo roadster, a duplicate of his old one, and will dispose of the latter when Capt. T. B. Hoy's thirty horse-power Cadillac touring car arrives, there will be six automobiles owned in Kittery Point. C. H. Higgins has two and S. H. Woodbury one.

Principal Hodgdon, who replaces Miss Edna Taylor at the Horace Mitchell school, is a baseball enthusiast, and a strong team from the school this season is sure to be the result. Mr. Hodgdon has lately been teaching in Norway, Me. Miss Huff is the other new teacher. School begins Monday.

It is proposed to enlarge the float stage at the Kittery Yacht Club, another sign of this organization's growing popularity. Even last year the old one was wholly inadequate to the needs of the club.

There is little visible change in the condition of the schooner Herman F. Kimball, which has been here with her cargo of lime since March 15. The heat of the decks and sides forward remains practically the same, though increasing and diminishing by turns.

Barge Nesquehoning, now in port on her first visit, is one of the large fleet of the old Lehigh Navigation Company, which has sprung into existence within a few months.

Vessels of this fleet are distinguishable by two broad white bands on their sides. The company owns no lugs, the Staples Coal Company's boats doing its towing.

MR. PHILBRICK MARRIES

MISS DRAKE AT RYE

Will Live at Norfolk, Va., Where Groom Is Assistant Navy Paymaster

Rye, N. H., April 3.—Mr. Manning Hodgdon Philbrick, assistant paymaster, United States navy, of Norfolk, Virginia, and Miss Ruth Maurice Drake of Rye Center were married at noon today at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Herman Drake, by Rev. J. B. Fenwick, pastor of the First Christian church in Rye.

The guests included the immediate members of the families of the contracting parties and the associates of the bride in the Ideal Club. The best man was Eustis Robert A. Theobald, United States navy, of San Francisco, a former shipmate of the groom and now attached to the battleship Wisconsin stationed at the Portsmouth navy yard. The bridesmaid was Miss Jennie C. Drake, a cousin of the bride. The flower girls were Misses Pauline H. Philbrick, a niece of the groom, and Ruth Keavey, a namesake of the bride, aged five and four years respectively.

The house was beautifully decorated for the occasion. The color scheme in the parlor was green and white, ropes of hemlock and evergreen swinging from center of ceiling to the sides of the room and artistically draping the walls. The corner where the couple stood for the ceremony was banded with green and dotted with white carnations while white potted plants were all about the room.

The hall and staircase were draped in green and the dining room was decorated in green set off by a profuse use of yellow jonquils.

The Lohengrin wedding march was played on the piano by Miss Evelyn K. Drake as the bridal party descended the stairs and entered the parlor at the stroke of twelve. The flower girls came first, then the bridesmaid and best man, with the bridal couple last.

The impressive words of the Episcopalian double ring service were soon spoken and the guests tendered congratulations to the happy couple, after which the wedding luncheon was served in the dining room. The menu consisted of salads, rolls, olives, ices, cake and black coffee.

After luncheon Mr. and Mrs. Philbrick took the train for Boston, whence they will proceed tonight to New York. After a short honeymoon at the metropolis, they will go to their new home in Norfolk.

The wedding gown was of white satin with baby Irish lace and white satin ribbon and having the skirt finished with French knots. She wore a tulle veil and carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. Her traveling dress is a tailored suit of light wistaria shade trimmed with buttons of the goods and silk waist of the same shade. Her hat is of cream-colored straw with ribbons to match suit.

The bridesmaid wore yellow mes-saline with yoke of net and silver trimmings. Her bouquet was of yellow marguerites. The tiny flower girls wore white muslin with lace insertion and white satin ribbons and carried white carnations and ferns.

The groom's gift to the bride was a gold chain with pendant of pearls and diamonds. The bride's gift to the groom was gold cuff links set with diamonds.

Mr. Philbrick is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Curtis Philbrick, prominent people of Rye. He is a graduate of the Bliss Business College in the class of 1899 and of the Army and Navy School at Washington. He has many friends in this city, where he was formerly freight cashier at the offices of the Boston and Maine railroad. He has been in the paymaster's bureau of the navy since early in 1906.

The bride was educated in Portsmouth and was president of the class of 1903 in the Portsmouth High school.

Mr. Philbrick is at present stationed with the submarine flotilla with headquarters at Norfolk.

Men Called Out to Fight a Grass Fire

The Assessors Getting Ready for Their Busy Season

Eliot, Me., April 3. Representative C. Edward Bartlett and Joseph H. Dixon, the House of Representatives holder, arrive home today after spending the greater part of the past three months in Augusta, where the legislature has been in session.

N. A. McKenney has begun work at remodeling and enlarging the building on the Joseph Stacy farm on the old river road, which was recently bought by Miss Melanie Murdock and a Miss Thomas of Boston.

The assessors will begin work next Monday, holding the formal meeting for the receiving of lists of property from parties wishing to file their own signed statements.

Elder George W. Brown will conduct the Sunday services at the South Eliot Adventist church.

Bolt hill is to be decorated this year with two flag poles only a short distance apart. John Hildebrand will have a big one and Fred Robinson will have one not quite so tall but on higher ground.

An alarm was spread on Friday evening in the neighborhood south of Green Acre on account of a big grass fire in Fred Bangs' field.

Avis, the little daughter of Town Clerk and Mrs. Wilmont E. Spinney, still holds her own. Mr. Spinney states that the nurse, Miss McLean of Portsmouth, is looking after her little charge in a way that makes the parents feel easy, and everything possible is being done for this little girl.

A Portsmouth Woman Has Moved to Her Rye House

A Pleasant Meeting Held by the Ideal Whist Club

Rye, April 3. The Ideal Whist club had an invitation whist party and dance at Town hall on Friday evening. Thirty tables were filled with players, the prizes being won by Horace Whidden and Miss Edith Badger. Rowe and Hoid furnished music for the dancing which was enjoyed till at late hour. Miss Fannie Jenness, president of the club, was chairman of the committee of arrangements.

The Jolly Whist club meets tonight with Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Caswell, on the Rye Harbor road.

Mrs. Annette Garland has moved from Portsmouth to her house here. Her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall, are living with her.

H. O. Rand is having his house painted.

D. J. Parsons is driving a new horse.

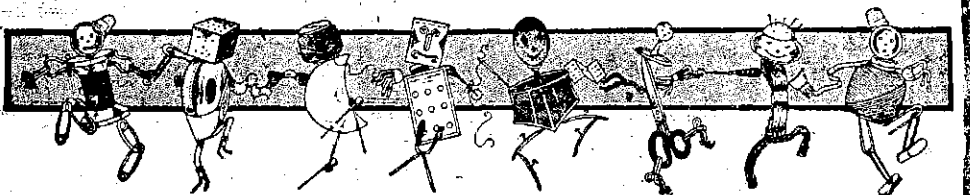

Norman Parsons has a handsome shepherd puppy, just the sort of a dog to gladden a boy's heart. The puppy is to take the place of the dog which was killed by an electric car.

SUMMER WORK FOR ARTILLERY

PLANS MADE FOR THE TRAIN-ING OF THE MILITIA WITH REGULARS THIS SUMMER.

Washington, April 3.—Continuing the policy of training men of the organized militia of the seacoast States for duty at the various coast artillery posts, the War Department already has begun preparations for the joint army and militia coast defense exercises to be held during the coming summer. Lieutenant Colonel E. M. Weaver, chief of the militia division of the War Department and member of the general staff, and Lieutenant Colonel C. J. Bailey, acting chief of the Coast Artillery Corps, have been ordered to New York to consult General Leonard Wood, commander in chief of the Department of the East pertaining to arrangements for the exercises.

These exercises are to be held annually in the various coast artillery districts of the United States. Those in the artillery districts of southern and eastern New York, will take place in June; of Narragansett and New London, in July; Portland and Boston, in August. The exercises held last summer were entirely successful and much progress is expected this summer in preparing the State troops to take charge of the artillery defenses in time of war. It has been estimated that 26,000 Coast Artillery troops, officers and men would have to be drawn from the State forces to furnish the guns of our coast defenses in time of war.

WORK WELL ADVANCED

The work on the Davis slaughter-

house at the Hunters place on the river bank, is progressing finely. The frame of the building is all up and the work of boarding in and roofing is being pushed rapidly along at a good speed.

On Friday afternoon the Tax Assessors paid a visit to the property and looked over the ground and the plans of the building.

BURIED WITH PYTHIAN HONOR

Dr. Lindell A. Johnson laid at Rest On Friday Afternoon

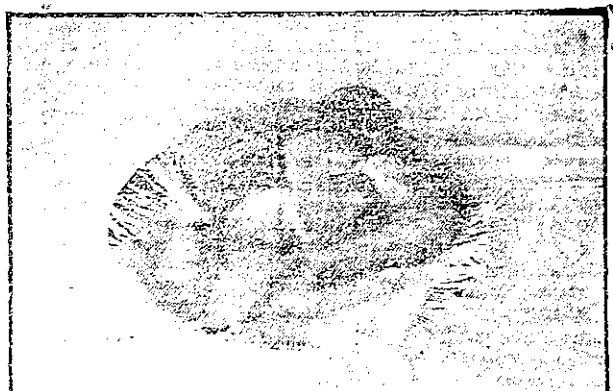

The funeral of Dr. Lindell A. Johnson was held at 2:30 on Friday afternoon from his late home on Denison street. Rev. George E. Leighton of the Universalist church officiating.

The Eastern lodge, Knights of Pythias were present and held their services. Burial was in the Harmony Grove Cemetery under the direction of O. W. Ham. The pall bearers were C. W. Hoyt, C. Edwin Hoyt, Ransom E. Smith and Charles H. Foute.

Good Things To Eat

RAISED ROLLS

Free yourself of the burden that a loaf of bread or a pan of rolls placed with a small amount of yeast with a longer time of fermentation and change in the kind of yeast used, will make a slightly different flavor from that of raised rolls, but it is not the flavor of the yeast that makes the difference. The difference is made in the kind of yeast used, and the kind of yeast used is the key to the difference. The yeast used in the process of making bread is the key to the difference.

For the full instruction today use one cup of milk, one cup water, one level teaspoon of salt, one compressed yeast cake dissolved in one-quarter cup of lukewarm water. Use bread four cups to make a dough that can be kneaded, which will be about six cups, the exact amount depending upon the kind of flour. Cover and let rise three hours, when it should have doubled in size. Mold and shape into small balls, set closely in a buttered pan, cover with a cloth, let rise again to double the size, and bake. Five hours should complete the process from the flour barrel to the table.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

On Friday evening at Dover Point, Master Richard Pinkham, son of ex-Senator E. Oscar Pinkham, observed in a fitting manner the eleventh anniversary of his birth.

At an early hour his schoolmates, accompanied by their popular teacher, Miss Gertrude Hobbs, assembled at a nearby residence and by a previously arranged programme, in an appropriate time, proceeded to take the party and not thinking family by storm. No Comanche of past or present times ever contributed more than these happy children in the line of merriment or joyous pleasure.

Being invited into the hospitable home and being made to feel at home, the first in order was a presentation by Miss Hobbs in behalf of the school of a tool chest of medium dimensions, containing all the up to date appliances of the craft of carpentering. Accompanying this were gifts of various kinds all showing the popular esteem in which the young man is held by schoolmates and friends.

Games of various kinds were indulged in after which a sumptuous lunch, consisting of cake, coffee, sandwiches, etc., was served.

Singing and music filled in the remainder of the evening and at a late hour the happy revelers departed for their homes after wishing their hosts many happy returns of the day.

STANDING PAT ON PAYNE BILL

No Material Changes to Be Made by Committee

WILL BE TWO CONCESSIONS

Duty Taken Off Tea and Countervailing Duty on Coffee Abandoned—Business Interests Appealing to President to Speed Legislation—Bill May Be Put on Its Passage Next Wednesday—Tariff Object Lessons

Washington, April 3.—The ways and means committee has finally decided that the essentials of the Payne bill shall not be changed in committee. The glove, hosiery, linoleum, millinery and other schedules in which the women of the land are particularly interested will stand as they are.

The high protectionists have been rallying the past two or three days and they believe they have won their fight. Two concessions, and two only, have been made by the committee. The duty on tea will come off and the countervailing duty on coffee will be abandoned as a result of the representations made by Brazil. Possibly a separate vote will be permitted on lumber and hides.

Every possible influence is being exerted to bring insurgent Republicans into line for the bill with the minor amendments the committee agrees to accept. And yet in spite of the work that has been done, many Republicans, chiefly from the middle west, are still unwilling to support a rule which will cut off amendments other than those named in the rule.

But the Republican machine is all-powerful and the prospect is that the Cannon organization will be able to put through a rule not later than next Monday. Every Republican has been asked to be in his seat on that day, and the Democrats have likewise been asked to be on hand.

President Taft is still doing what he can to bring about a situation in the house which will permit a vote. He is exceedingly anxious that the bill shall be hurried along. Business interests in every section of the country are appealing to him to speed the legislation. The bill may be put on passage next Wednesday, but there is division of opinion on that point.

The determination of the organization not to permit a separate vote on a proposition to increase the internal revenue tax on beer is causing much comment. Here again there is the insinuation that the liquor interest was tangled up in the fight over the rules. The demand for an increased tax on beer has been coming strong from the west and the south the last few days.

To illustrate their arguments on the tariff, members and delegates have brought into the lobby of the house, just back of the speaker's desk, hundreds of exhibits. Representative Mann of Illinois, who spoke on the duty on print paper and wood pulp, displayed in the lobby sections of trees from Maine to California with the age rings carefully counted and noted. Every process of the wood in the making of paper was shown by the exhibition of specimens in sticks, boxes, bottles or sheets.

Commissioner Larrinaga of Porto Rico is interested in the duty on coffee and he brought in an assortment from every country in the world that produces the berry. The samples are displayed in elegantly finished boxes. Mr. Cole of Ohio made a speech on wool. He brought on to the floor of the house unwashed wool off the back of a sheep.

When Mr. Cushman of Washington defended the duty on lumber he displayed a score or more of charts which he has arranged in the corridor so they will continue to argue with the members.

Representative Mondell of Wyoming has resorted to the same method of driving home his argument for coal duties.

MOTOR BOAT RACES SUNDAY

Speedy Little Vessels in International Events at Monaco

Nice, France, April 3.—The international motor boat races, in which boats representing several nations are entered, will begin at Monaco tomorrow and will continue until April 11.

This year's Monaco motor boat races are the sixth annual event of that character and eclipse in interest any of the preceding meets. There are two American entries, the Dixie II and the Standard, for the big race, the Grand Prix International event, which will be sailed on April 11.

Persistent Firebugs
Milford, Mass., April 3.—For the fourth time within a year an attempt was made last night to burn the Coolidge block, a $25,000 building in the business district. Some unknown person entered the building and started a blaze in a printing office. The flames were extinguished after a damage of $2000 had been done.

Cotton Factories Exempt From Taxes
Little Rock, April 3.—The state senate passed a resolution for a constitutional amendment exempting from taxes all cotton factories located in the state. The bill has already passed the house.

PROTESTS ARE HEEDED

Manhattan Opera Company Will Not Present "Salome" at Boston
Boston, April 3.—The opera "Salome," which the Manhattan Opera company intended to present at the Boston theatre next Thursday afternoon, will not be given because of protests from Governor Draper, Mayor Hibbard, Bishop Lawrence of the Episcopal church, Vicar General Patterson of the Roman Catholic church, Rev. George A. Gordon of the Congregational Trinitarian body, former Governor Guild and other leading citizens.

The clergy object to the opera on moral grounds and many of them consider that a presentation of "Salome" next Thursday would be a profanation of Holy Week.

Mayor Hibbard notified the lessees of the Boston theatre that if the Manhattan company persisted in its intention of producing "Salome," he would invoke such power as he possessed to stop the presentation.

As a result of the numerous protests Manager Hammerstein decided not to present the objectionable opera.

IN HONOR OF BOOTH

Salvation Army's Social Workers to Be Trained in University

New York, April 3.—Commander Evangeline Booth of the Salvation Army announces that a new undertaking, to be known as a "World's University of Humanity," for the training of workers for the Army's social service operations, will be launched on April 10, in honor of the 80th birthday of her father, General William Booth.

The work of raising $5,000,000 for the founding of the university will begin on that date, and the first branches will be opened in this country in New York and Chicago. The headquarters for the rest of the world will be in London. It is believed that the university will raise the efficiency of workers and attract a superior class to the service.

BOUGHT APPLES FROM MAINE MEN

Claim That Mills Never Made
Payment For Them

Boston, April 3.—Nearly two score of Maine apple growers came to Boston to testify in the case of Walter Mills of Manchester, Eng., who was indicted by the grand jury on the charge of using the mails to defraud.

It appeared that Mills, after severing connections with the house of John Mills & Co. of Manchester, for which he had been acting as agent, continued to do business on the reputation of that house. He appointed agents in several sections of Maine, instructing these men to make up cartloads of apples and send them to him in Boston, promising to pay higher than market prices for the fruit. It is said that Mills never reimbursed the farmers.

Several witnesses were heard. It is expected that the case will not be closed for several days.

BLACKMAILER CAUGHT

Supposed Leader of Chicago Branch of Black Hand Society

Chicago, April 3.—Vincenzo Geraci, who is said by the police to be the leader of the Chicago Black Hand society, was arrested here in the office of Dr. Peter Cetrera, from whom the Italian had demanded $3000 on pain of death.

Geraci, it is said, has given evidence concerning his associates in the plot. It is thought that the members of the Chicago society are in close touch with the New York gang that brought about the death in Italy of Lieutenant Petrosini of the New York police department.

Bishop Says Roosevelt Will Not Incur
Danger In Africa

Stamford, Conn., April 3.—Bishop Hartzell of Africa, who is in attendance at the Methodist conference in this city, ridicules the story that Theodore Roosevelt would incur danger to himself during his trip to Africa.

The bishop said that after leaving the steamer the party would travel 300 miles on a good railroad, and with an up-to-date outfit there was absolutely no danger for a husky man of 50, as Roosevelt is.

TWO ARRESTS IN MULLINS CASE

Light on Murder Which Has Long Puzzled Police

A YOUTH TELLS OF CRIME

Declares That It Was Committed by a Greek Who Was His Companion on Night That the Woman Was Enticed Into a Sandpit and Stain—Half a Dozen Men Had Been Held as Suspects at Various Times

Cambridge, Mass., April 3.—The mystery of one of the most atrocious murders in the criminal annals of Greater Boston was apparently cleared when Dionysius Spiropoulos, a Greek, 20 years old, was arrested for the murder of Miss Annie Mullins in Arlington on the night of March 27, 1908, and Peter Delorey, 18 years old, was held as an accessory. Delorey, it is said by the police, told of the crime, placing the blame entirely upon his companion.

Spiropoulos, when confronted by Delorey and after listening to the latter's statement, collapsed, and when taken to a cell lay moaning and groaning but refused to make any statement. The information which led to the arrest of the two men is understood to have been in the hands of the police for nearly a month and originated at a farm in Billerica, where they went after the crime.

Spiropoulos, since the murder, has been working in a barber shop in Manchester, N. H., under the name of James Mondir, while Delorey returned to his occupation as a butcher in Boston, living at 320 Beacon street, Somerville.

The police will not state what the causes were which prompted the murder, but it is understood that they have information in their possession which indicates that the young woman was enticed into a sand pit, where an unsuccessful attempt to assault her was made.

That she walked with them for more than three miles before she met her death is shown in the story told by Delorey to the police. He said:

"We met Miss Mullins on the night of March 28 near the Porter street station of the Boston and Maine railroad. She spoke to us, apparently believing us to be acquaintances. We walked together to Squire's field, Arlington, and returned to where we started."

"The evening being still early, we walked back again, entering Squire's field by way of Marathon street. Miss Mullins and Spiropoulos went into the sand pit, while I stood some distance away. I heard him strike the girl and heard a third as she fell down, followed by several screams. There was much noise for some time after, but I was afraid to go near them. After a while Spiropoulos came to me with his hands smeared with blood and threatened me, saying that if I ever told any person of what had happened he would kill me."

Delorey then told of their flight, saying that they ran and walked to Billerica. Delorey later found his way back to Boston and resumed his occupation as a butcher, while Spiropoulos went to Manchester, N. H., and with the hands which Delorey says killed Miss Mullins he shaved men's faces and cut their hair as a barber on Spruce street. Spiropoulos will be charged with murder, Delorey being held as an accomplice.

The arrest of the two men was accomplished in Boston by four officers from Cambridge without any trouble. Spiropoulos was brought to the city from Manchester by means of a decoy letter, and as he left the train in Boston the four officers took him in charge and conveyed him to the police station here. Then they returned to Boston and arrested Delorey, after which both men were submitted to an investigation.

The Mullins murder case puzzled the police of Boston, Cambridge and Somerville for eleven months before they secured the evidence which led to the arrest of the two men. Following the finding of Miss Mullins' body in Squire's field an extensive investigation was begun, in which nearly half a dozen persons were forced to prove alibis.

It was shown that Miss Mullins left the house of her employer, Professor von Jagemann of Harvard university, on the evening of Friday, March 27, without saying where she was going. Her male acquaintances were made to clear themselves of any connection in the case, and in order to verify the alibi of Benedict Shanahan, a Newfoundland fisherman, two police officers went to St. Johns.

The autopsy performed after the discovery of the body showed that the throat of Miss Mullins had been cut four times. Much doubt existed as to whether she had been murdered or had committed suicide, the state police dropping the investigation with the statement that it was a case of suicide.

BOY BADLY LACERATED

Attacked by Feroocious Bulldogs and Rescued by His Father

Somerville, Mass., April 3.—Two English bulldogs endangered the life of Warren McIntyre, aged 6. The boy will survive, but will wear ugly wounds through his life, probably, as the result of several lacerations, one of which is two inches long and nearly an inch deep.

Young McIntyre had been playing ball, and went into the yard in which the dogs were kept in search of a lost ball. The dogs pounced upon him immediately and both gripped his right leg. The boy's father heard the boy's screams and, by a prolonged belaboring with a baseball bat, managed to drive the animals away.

Elsie Bemmer, 10 years old, was rescued from the dogs on Thursday by James Comfort, aged 12, at much danger to the boy.

SENTENCED TO DEATH

But Cortes and His Son May Not Suffer the Penalty

Havana, April 3.—The court-martial which tried Sergeant Cortes and his son, Vincente, on a charge of military rebellion, and Corporal Ricardo on a charge of conspiracy, in connection with the recent revolutionary uprising at Vuelta, found Sergeant Cortes and his son guilty and the penalty named was death. Ricardo was acquitted of the charge brought against him.

The findings of the court-martial were approved by General Montenegro, commanding the rural guards, but owing to the fact that the court was unable to take cognizance of extenuating circumstances it is probable that the death penalty will be remitted.

New York, April 3.—Sailing today on the Caledonian for Scotland was Jerome D. Travers, amateur golf champion of the United States, who is going abroad to test his skill against the best British players of the "royal game" on the historic links of Scotland and England.

JEROME D. TRAVERS.

Travers is entered in the British amateur championships, which will begin at Muirfield on May 24, and will practice on the British links before the championship games begin. He is modest in his hopes of success abroad.

ELIOT DECLINES

Turns Down Offer of Ambassadorship to Great Britain

Washington, April 3.—Both at the state department and the White House it is officially announced that Dr. Charles W. Eliot, the retiring president of Harvard university, has definitely and finally decided that he cannot accept the tender of the ambassadorship to Great Britain.

President Taft is considering no one for the place at this time, as no chance is contemplated for some time to come.

Faculty of Manhattan College Give "Strikers' Time For Reflection"

New York, April 3.—The strike of 250 students of Manhattan college over the expulsion of John Nugent, a senior, practically collapsed when the faculty executed a near about movement by declaring a vacation until April 15.

This brings on the Easter holidays a week ahead of time and gives the students that much more time to think it all over.

VOLUNTARY EXILE FOR LIFE

Mrs. Thomas Becomes an Attendant For Lepers

SHARES HER SON'S FATE

Struggled to Get Appointment That She Might Be Near the Only One She Loves on Earth. Who Was Recently Sent to the Colony on Penitentiary Island—Ten Persons to Look After in the Lonely Place

Boston, April 3.—The appointment by the state board of charities of Mrs. Emma E. Thomas as attendant for the lepers at Penitentiary Island marks the final success of the struggle which the woman has been making to be allowed to go into voluntary exile among the lepers and share the fate of her son, James, who was recently taken to the colony on account of having the disease.

The appointment was announced yesterday after a meeting of the board. The case was carefully considered, and as an attendant was needed for the lepers, it was decided to grant the anxious mother's prayer, so that she will be allowed to go into lifelong exile with her son.

Frank W. Goodhue, deputy-superintendent of charities, said: "We were in need of an attendant at the island, and as Mrs. Thomas seemed to be a logical candidate, she was appointed. Of course, one of the primary considerations was that she wanted to be near her son. We considered the subject very carefully, and feel that the appointment, all things considered, is a good one."

There are ten inmates on the island at present, and Mrs. Thomas will have free access to all parts of the place. As far as she is concerned, Mrs. Thomas received the news that she could live with her son on the island with unbounded satisfaction.

"I want to be near the only one I love on earth," she said. "Nothing matters to me but my boy, and no matter what the price may be, I will gladly join him."

$5000 WOMAN FOR $10,000

Wife of Minister Declares That Husband's Affections Were Alienated

Woodbury, Conn., April 3.—Alleging that she had alienated her husband's affections, Mrs. Carrie E. Dane, wife of Rev. Charles W. Dane, until recently pastor of the local Methodist Episcopal church, has brought suit for $10,000 against Mrs. Jennie Proctor, wife of George N. Proctor of this place. Mrs. Dane has sued her husband for divorce, alleging cruelty.

Dane has left the Methodist church of which he was pastor and returned to the New York East Conference his credentials as a member of that body and the Methodist church.

TAFT ON BOYCOTT

His View That It Is Tyranny Is Not Shared by Gompers

New York, April 3.—President Taft declares that "the boycott is such an instrument of tyranny that it must be met by a weapon adequate to its suppression."

Ex-Judge Reuben B. Sullivan, speaking to the New York council of the National Civic Federation, quoted from a letter written him by Taft last August on the subject.

President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor defended the use of the boycott. Gompers was not listed as a speaker, but the address of Sullivan stirred him to action.

PLACED IN QUARANTINE

Scarlet Fever Makes Its Appearance on the Battleship Missouri

Doston, April 3.—The appearance of five cases of scarlet fever among the enlisted men of the battleship Missouri has resulted in the placing of a quarantine upon the ship. To prevent a further spread of the disease the infected sailors were removed to the naval hospital in Chelsea.

While the quarantine will cut off shore leave from all the men on the ship at the present time, a number of sailors who were ashore when the quarantine was put into effect were granted an extension of furlough.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES

President Taft hopes to get away from Washington about the middle of June.

Convicted of having wrecked a whisky distillery during agrarian troubles, 125 peasants were sentenced at Samara, Russia, to eight months' imprisonment and nine to other terms. The report that the walls of the Yale 16th-century building are crumbling and that in a short time the buildings would be unfit for occupancy is officially denied by the college authorities.

ROGERS OPENS NEW ROAD

His Virginian Railway Is the Realization of Long Cherished Plans

Norfolk, Va., April 3.—With the arrival here of the first train of the new Virginian railway at Sewall's Point and the formal opening of the road by Henry H. Rogers, the financier, the favorite project of Mr. Rogers became a reality. For several years Mr. Rogers has been laboring to construct a railroad from the rich coal fields of West Virginia across Virginia to the water. The crowning of his labors with success is the opening of the new road to regulate traffic.

Mr. Rogers, who is president and virtual owner of the Virginian railway, witnessed the opening of the line with a party of friends. Among them were Samuel L. Clemens, better known as Mark Twain; James M. Peck and Urban H. Broughton. The citizens of Norfolk, who have shown great interest in the building and opening of the railroad, gave a dinner in honor of the party.

The cost of the road has been approximately $10,000,000, about half of which has been put up by Mr. Rogers personally.

NEW WORLD'S CHAMPION

Morningstar Carries Off First Honors in the Billiard Tournament

New York, April 3.—Ora C. Morningstar of this city is the new world's champion at 18.2 ball line billiards, having won the honor by defeating George F. Slosson in the final game of the international tournament.

Morningstar is a native of Indiana and is 34 years old. In addition to winning the championship emblem, Morningstar gets a cash prize of $1200 and 40 percent of the gate receipts and entry money.

George Sutton of Chicago gets second prize, 25 percent of the money, while George F. Slosson of New York and A. G. Cutler of Boston tied for third place and divide 27 percent. Louis Cure of Paris, champion of France, will receive the remainder.

WORLD'S BEST RUNNERS RACE THIS AFTERNOON

Six of Them Entered in New York Marathon Derby

New York, April 3.—At 3 o'clock this afternoon six of the world's best runners, men of speed and stamina tested in many contests since the Marathon bug bit the athletic world, will start in the Polo grounds here in a Marathon Derby. They will run the regulation Marathon distance, 26 miles and 385 yards, for a purse of $10,000, the largest ever offered in a foot race.

The men who will run this afternoon are Tom Longboat, the Canadian Indian; Johnny Hayes, the New Yorker; Dorando Pietri, the Italian; Alfred Shrubbs, from England; Matt Maloney of New York, the former amateur Marathon champion, and Henri St. Yves, who as his name shows, hails from France. The first five of these men are well known to the sporting world and to many persons who ordinarily take little interest in such matters as races. A very large crowd is expected to see the contest.

The sextet of runners is the greatest collection of Marathon racers ever gathered. It is asserted by many that Shrubbs cannot go the route, but the Englishman says that he will cut out the murderous pace for the first fifteen miles and will be in at the finish.

Longboat is the favorite, with Dorando a close second, owing to his two defeats of Hayes in Madison Square Garden.

KILLED POLICE SERGEANT

Man Who Mistook Officer For a Burglar Freed by Grand Jury

New York, April 3.—The grand jury refused to indict Edward J. Byrnes, who shot and killed Police Sergeant John B. Goldhammer as the latter was forcing an entrance into Byrnes' apartment in search of evidence for use in certain police prosecutions then under way.

The case has attracted wide public attention because of Byrnes' plea that Goldhammer had no warrant and he believed the officer was a burglar. Byrnes appears to have convinced the grand jury of the truth of this contention.

Death of Emily Hazard
Newport, R. I., April 3.—Death was noted the 101-year journey through life of Miss Emily L. Hazard, formerly a well known New England family noted for its numbers and longevity. Miss Hazard was the oldest of a family of nine children, her death doubling the number of living members to five.

THE MAINE LEGISLATURE

The New Hampshire legislature will be in session another week but that of Maine adjourned on Friday evening, having taken a week longer than the body which met at Augusta two years ago.

Maine is a larger state than New Hampshire and a large proportion of its members are unable to get home weekly. The result is that sessions are held on Saturday forenoons and Monday afternoons or else committee hearings given at those times from the first assembling till the final adjournment. The Maine House of Representatives contain 151 members, which is only three eighths as many as compose the New Hampshire and it is proverbial that the large bodies move slowly. If wealth and population New Hampshire is practically two-thirds as large as Maine. The needs of a state in the matter of legislation to promotion of its welfare and protection of its people do not vary in proportion to size, but one community's wants in this day of divers civilization are almost exactly the same as those of the next community. It would be surprising if the Maine legislature did not adjourn the earlier of the two.

Taxation and the different phases of the prohibitory liquor law were the principal subjects considered by the legislature.

The total increase in the taxes on the state are $361,400, of which $125,000 is for the lands in unincorporated places.

Various matters were considered on temperance legislation and the legislature refused to repeal the so-called Sturgis enforcement act and to resubmit the prohibitory liquor law to the people. A two-thirds majority was not secured for the passage of the so-called Eaton amendment to the constitution, giving the governor the power to remove delinquent sheriffs, with the provision that if the amendment was accepted by the people that the Sturgis law would be repealed.

A law giving the governor the power to remove delinquent county officers received a passage, while a bill to repeal the state liquor agency system was defeated, although an act was passed repealing and restricting the business of the city and town agencies.

A law was enacted declaring that liquor for the sale of which a federal tax is required is an intoxicant and liquor and another which declared that the Sturgis law is a better law than the one now in force. The Sturgis law was amended so that the salary and expenses of the deputy enforcement commissioners shall be paid by the counties in which they work.

As were passed compelling straight bill sentences in second of State of liquor nuisance and illegal possession. Governor Fernald during the closing hours of the legislature vetoed the so-called Hastings bill, which would remove the "block" in the prohibitory liquor law giving the judges discretion as to jail sentences in liquor cases. The legislature failed to pass the bill over the governor's veto. Governor Fernald also vetoed at this session the resolve to rebate the taxes of Old Orchard on account of its big fire two years ago. A third veto was of a bill to reimburse purchasers of state wild land tax deeds found to be worthless, on the ground that it was practically an equity proceeding in which the complainants were barred by the rules of court.

Some of the legislation enacted was an employers' liability law, a law making fifty-eight hours a week the work time for women and children in manufacturing establishments, increase in taxes on steam and street railroads, telegraph and telephone companies and other public service corporations, creation of a forestry district, putting the expense of warden service wholly on the wild lands, enactment of a direct inheritance tax, revision of the military laws, a resolve appropriating $350,000, $175,000 for each of the next two years, for the enlargement of the state house, and an act for the creation of a state board of arbitration and conciliation.

One of the last measures passed was an act to exempt wages of $10 per week or less from the trustee process.

The constitutional amendment adopted at the last Maine election makes all these laws subject to a referendum of the people, except such as are emergency legislation. The emergency clause was attached to the brown tail and gipsy moth bill, to the forest fire bill and to several other different measures. The legislature was liberal in the use of the emergency clause.

It is probable that only one of the measures passed by the Maine legislature will be subjected to the referendum, and that is the bill to spend a quarter-million dollars in the enlargement of the State House.

York county affairs will be considerably disturbed as the result of his legislature, for in September, 1910, the county will have to vote on the changing of the county seat from Alfred to Saco, Sanford or Kennebunk. The town of York has been divided. The legislature refused to divide Kennebunkport, to annex a portion of Berwick to South Berwick, and to abolish the Biddeford police commission. Sea and shore fisheries are little disturbed and, except for the changes in the tax laws our neighbors in the southwest corner of Maine will notice little immediate difference between before and after taking the legislature.

OPINIONS OF THE PEOPLE

The True W. Priest Handtub Editor of the Herald:—As one of the principal stockholders in the True W. Priest hand tub, I thoroughly endorse the proposition that the tub be given in custody of the Franklin Pierce Firemen's Association which is a live organization and representative of the city.

The tub is not being used at present and there is no prospect of its being used. The Franklin Pierce Association would put this fire engine in a first class shape and keep it in good condition.

I propose a meeting of the stockholders to be held at an early date when some action can be taken in the matter.

DANDRUFF GERMS MUST GO

In America the dandruff germs must go. The war of extermination has been declared. The battle has begun, and already thousands of unfortunates Americans have permanently rid themselves of this affliction.

Today it is no more necessary for a man to have dandruff in his hair than to have a wart on his nose.

Dandruff can never be cured until the dandruff germ is conquered and destroyed.

And millions of dandruff germs have been destroyed, thanks to the great scientific and dermatological knowledge of the world's Parisian sage, the only real dandruff cure and hair restorer the world has ever known.

If you have dandruff, Parisian Sage will cure you in two weeks, or even money back.

But besides giving the scalp of dandruff, Parisian Sage is guaranteed to stop falling hair and itching of the scalp. It is not a dye. It is a prime favorite with women of refinement. It makes the hair soft, lustrous and beautiful, and is not sticky or greasy.

WHY MANY HAVE THE DYSPESIA

Also a Certain Cure for Stomach Trouble

Does it ever occur to you how busy that little stomach of yours is? It actually only holds three pints, though in one year you force it to take in 2,500 pounds of material, digest it and prepare it for assimilation to the blood. Do you wonder at the number of cases of Indigestion and Stomach trouble? You crowd it with steaks and pastry, irritate its juices with spices and acids and expect this little four-ounce mill to do its work.

Is there any wonder that your food passes undigested, or lays like a lump of lead in the stomach? That everything you eat turns to acid. Stomach gas and Stomach poison, putrefying the intestines and digestive canal, causing Bilioussness, Headaches, Dizziness and Indigestion, Heartburn, Nauseous Breath, constipation and other more dangerous symptoms?

Call your disease what you will—Indigestion, Gastritis, Nervousness, Dyspepsia, Catarrh of Stomach, etc.—you know the real name, the real disease is fermentation of the food you eat—a sour Stomach, which belches gas and erups undigested food or causes a feeling of nausea and miserableness.

All these miseries vanish promptly when you stop this food fermentation. Take fifty cents to your Pharmacist for a case of Pape's Diapiesin. Eat a triangle, and five minutes later your Stomach will do what a healthy Stomach should—that is, turn every bite you eat into bodily nourishment and without you realizing that you have a Stomach. One triangle will digest all the food you eat without the aid of the stomach, because it contains just the elements found in a good strong, healthy stomach.

BOY IS A THIEF

And a Surgical Operation on His Brain May Cure Him

New York, April 3.—With tears in their eyes, Mr. and Mrs. Barker of 1507 Fulton street, Brooklyn, asked Magistrate Furlong to do something for their 16 year old son, Clifford, who has a mania for taking things that don't belong to him. He has a peculiarly shaped head, long and narrow, a low forehead and piercing black eyes.

"Really, judge," said Mrs. Barker. "I am afraid he is not right mentally. Won't you please send him to the observation ward for 10 days, so the doctors can find out what is the matter with him?" Magistrate Furlong granted the request.

Clifford's parents are in good circumstances. It is said a surgical operation may relieve a possible pressure on the brain.

HAMPTON

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Herman of Norwood, Mass., are receiving congratulations on the birth of a baby boy. Misses Minnie Arnold and Mary Toppan attended the Legislature in Concord on Wednesday, the guests of representative ex-Mayor Hackett of Portsmouth.

Oceanside Grange will conduct an Easter sale on the afternoon and evening of April 9, 1909, at their hall over the postoffice. Cakes, candies and fancy articles for sale. An interesting programme will be rendered.

Henry B. Hobbs and family has moved into the Ames Atkinson house on the avenue.

Mrs. Jane Atkinson has returned to town after spending the winter in Lowell.

Mrs. Sarah Stevens is critically ill from the effects of taking a cold. Her age is 92 years, the oldest native resident.

An Easter concert will be held in the Congregational church on Sunday evening the 11th of April.

A very interesting social and ice cream sale was held in Relief Corps Hall on Wednesday evening. Each member was called upon to contribute something toward the entertainment. A pleasing number was "The Shaking Quakers" by six children, also "Two Brownies" by Misses Locke and Wilbur.

Mrs. Ida Partington on Monday went to the Exeter Cottage hospital and on Tuesday she underwent an operation. Her little family are being cared for by an Exeter nurse during her absence.

C. O. Stevens returned Tuesday from Randolph, Mass. He found his daughter, Mrs. Lester M. Holbrook much improved in health, but the youngest child of Mrs. Holbrook is down with the measles.

Miss Lois L. Nye has been on a visit of a few days in Newburyport.

Marrison Hobbs and daughter Helen, with Master Harold Hobbs of North Hampton, are on a visit to Leominster, Mass.

Miss Helen M. Sanborn has returned to her home in Hampton Falls having spent the winter at "Greta Hall" with Mrs. Elizabeth Berry at Hampton.

Mrs. Lee Hawkins, who for a number of years lived in Indiana, has returned to Hampton from the Spaulding house, Lowell, Mass., of which she has been general manager for nearly a year. In 1920 this tavern was built in Lowell, and after a time it passed into the Spaulding family, and three years ago it was bought and restored and The "Molly Varnum" chapter, D. A. R., have the house in charge. It is a most interesting house. Many neighboring societies are entertained at lunch. Mrs. Hawkins has come to Hampton to rest before taking up active duties again.

Augustus Parker has been engaged as janitor at the Baptist church.

Rev. D. H. Adams is making an extended visit at his old home in Tunbridge, Vt. His many friends will be pleased to see him on his return to Hampton. This is the maple sugar season and of course Mr. Adams is enjoying himself. Miss Lucinda Batchelder is staying with Mrs. Adams during his absence.

The two young sons of George W. Philbrook came very near being dangerously burned and were severely scorched by a fire that had been started in the dump or sand bank near the academy on Wednesday morning.

Mrs. Sarah A. (Rollins) Stevens widow of the late David Stevens, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Samuel J. McIvreen, on Friday morning at eight o'clock. The deceased was a native of Stratham, but for more than sixty years has been an esteemed citizen of this town. She leaves a son, Charles Orrin, and the daughter with whom she has resided for many years past.

The Orion minstrels of Hampton have in full rehearsal a first rate minstrel show to be given the last of April. Ralph S. Parker of Portsmouth has the company in charge, and with a circle of eleven and a chorus of twenty men you are promised a treat in minstrelsy.

Miss Augusta Blake is home from Smith college for Easter vacation.

Maplehurst, the fine residence of Charles F. Wood on the Exeter road, is to be opened to summer guests this season, and with that end in view extensive alterations and improvements have been under way for some time, and are now just completed.

Winicomet council No. 3 will initiate 16 candidates in the town hall on Tuesday evening, April 13. The state officers and Amesbury council, No. 10, Junior Order United American Mechanics are invited to be present. Refreshments will be served in the lower hall at the close. The order is growing rapidly in this town and an effort is being made to give New Hampshire the largest membership in the New England states.

DOVER DOINGS

Dover, April 3.—The senior class of the high school left here at 1:30 o'clock on Friday afternoon for a ten day trip to Washington, Philadelphia and other points of interest. The party of fifty students with their chaperones installed themselves in a special car, and for fifteen minutes before time were busy receiving good wishes of a large company of friends. An assemblage of nearly 400 people, including students and friends were present as the train left, and a lusty high school cheer was given.

Mrs. Sarah Babb, an inmate of the Stratford county farm, was the victim of an accident which may result in her losing her life. Mrs. Babb, who is seventy-three years of age, was smoking a pipe, when in some manner a spark from the same ignited her clothing and she was soon enveloped in flames.

About twenty men have been set to work on the postoffice lot, and more will be employed as soon as the condition of the ground will permit of more extensive digging.

The banquet hall of the city opera house is to undergo extensive improvements, among which is the installation of a reception room in the hall. Arthur H. King of this city has been awarded the contract for the work, his bid for the same being $252. Captain Collett took his squad of aspirants for the baseball team of the high school, down to Quamphegan park on Friday afternoon, where they were given a stiff workout.

George Bassett, who was arrested, charged with being an idle person, was given a sentence of thirty days at the farm, with costs of $7.50 this morning. Bassett was given a lot of advice and warned that he must go to work as soon as his sentence expires.

FUNERAL OF CHARLES T. LANG

The funeral of Charles T. Lang was held at two o'clock yesterday afternoon from his late home on New Castle avenue. Rev. E. H. Gardner of the Court Street Christian church reading the service. Interment was in the Central cemetery at Rye under the direction of O. W. Ham.

WITH THE BOWLERS

WARWICK CLUB SPRUNG A SURPRISE ON CATHOLIC UNION BOWLING TEAM, WINNING THREE OUT OF FOUR POINTS—GOOD ROLLING AT ARCADE ALLEYS.

The Warwick club sprung a surprise on the Catholic Union in the Club bowling league on Friday evening, when they defeated that team, winning three out of the four points by taking the two first strings and the pin fall and just losing the third string, by four pins, J. Kirvan getting the string with a pretty spare in the last box.

The Catholic Union team were off their regular gait and as a result they rolled the poorest strings since the tournament, while the Warwick club rolled their best total. Harding as usual being high man while Cater took the single string with 103. Capstick was high man for the Catholic Union and rolled 91 without a spare, or a strike.

The summary.

WARWICK CLUB	CATHOLIC UNION
Eastman 74 74 84 232	Capstick 74 91 93 258
Philbrook 70 91 83 256	McMullin 72 74 72 218

But two matches were rolled in the Two Men League at the Arcade Alleys on Friday evening. In the first match between Clark and Carney and Clapp and Gerrish the first named took all four points. In the second Woods and Norton defeated Stillson and Randall securing three points taking the first two strings and the pin fall and losing the third string a tie on the roll off. Stillson was high man and rolled in excellent shape.

The summary.

CLARK AND CARNEY	CLAPP AND GERRISH	WOODS AND NORTON	STILLSON AND RANDALL

YOUR COMPLEXION

As a complexion remedy, nothing yet discovered can equal the following prescription in quickly and permanently removing pimples, eczema, blackheads, blotches and kindred diseases of the skin; it draws to the surface and quickly destroys all poisonous matter which has accumulated, leaving the tissues of the skin in a perfectly healthy condition; it will also prevent and cure chapped hands, lips and face. This is the prescription, which can be filled at any Drug Store. Clear, seven ounces. Ether one ounce. Alcohol seven ounces. Mix, shake well, and apply to the face night and morning, allowing it to remain at least ten minutes, the longer the quicker results will have. In extreme cases apply four or five times daily. The filmy powder deposit on the face may be wiped off after a reasonable time. Do not use soap instead wash the face with oatmeal and a little powdered orris root tied up in a cheese cloth bag, and no matter how bad your face is, or what the cause may have been, this will surely cure it. This prescription is perfectly harmless and can be used on the most delicate skin.

Academy Boys Win Success in their Communities

News of the Grange, the Red Men and the Churches

Exeter, April 3. Charles Jones, a well known baseball player, has signed with the Providence, R. I., Eastern league team for the coming season. Jones has an enviable record in this county, having filled a box position on many semi-professional teams for the last five years.

The public library committee has organized with Albion Burbank, chairman, Walter E. Cotton, secretary, Principal Harry E. Walker treasurer, the latter succeeding Albert J. Weeks. Prof. J. E. Kirtland of the academy faculty read a paper today on "Some Features of the Classical Instruction in the English Public Schools," at the Classical association of New England, which is being held at Boston. Professor Kirtland has recently returned from England where he was selected to go as a representative of the National Civic Federation of Teachers.

Lieutenant George L. Smith, U. S. N., addressed the members of the First Parish club at the meeting on "The Cruise of Our Navy Around the World." Mr. Smith is a former resident of this town and was on the flagship Connecticut during the cruise of the Atlantic fleet. His remarks were most interesting and were heard by a large audience. He is to spend a fortnight here.

A pleasant meeting was held last evening by the Wehahowonit tribe of Red Men at its hall. The Haymakers degree was worked on a class in an impressive manner, and business transacted was the decision to have the annual district meeting held here sometime during the month of May. This district comprises Pocasset tribe of Newmarket, Massachusetts tribe of Portsmouth and Wehahowonit tribe of Exeter. It is the intention of the committee appointed to have a gala occasion on the date of the meeting. The programme will probably include a street parade. The meeting was last year held at Portsmouth. After the secret work and business, a supper was served.

Gilman Grange, at its regular meeting next Monday evening, will work the first and second degrees. The literary programme will include music, singing by Mrs. Wilfred Nason and recitations by Mr. William Lysitt.

Mr. Daniel Kelleher has added a story and a half to the front projection of his store and dwelling on Lincoln street, to the material improvement of the building. Carpenter William E. West has assisted him in the work.

Miss Alice G. Jewell is spending the week at Concord with her sister, Mrs. N. F. Carter.

Gale Brothers, Inc., have given the Cottage hospital $17.40, proceeds of sales of cinders to the town.

Rehearsals are in progress at the town hall for a production of the opera "Mikado" at the opera house by local amateurs during the last week in April. The solo parts will be taken by Mrs. Edwin S. Thyn, Miss Jessie C. Burpee, Miss Bertha E. Lord, Mrs. Parker B. Stevens, Messrs. Winthrop E. Fiske, J. Gilbert Haley, Leon Day and Herbert Sears, the last of Chicago and prominent in preliminary arrangements. The large chorus will include many of Exeter's best singers.

The fourth lecture will be given at the Advent Christian church next Sunday night at 8 o'clock. The subject will be on the Image as recorded in the second chapter of Daniel. In the morning the subject will be "Christ's Precept and Promise." Matthew 23: "Seek and ye shall find." All are welcome.

Rev. Frederick Gardiner, a graduate of the Academy in 1876, has been appointed headmaster of the Yeates school at Lancaster, Pa. Mr. Gardiner has won reputation both as an Episcopal clergyman and as an educator. He founded the Pomfret school at Pomfret, Conn.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank DeMerritt have gone to South Portland, Me., where they have accepted a position in the Mitchell house, which is noted for its excellent shore dinners.

Mr. Ernest G. Marble, of Providence, R. I., has sold the Benjamin F. Barker farm on Brentwood road to Mr. Lester E. Williams, of Nottingham, widely known as a nurseryman. He will soon take possession.

Miss Alice Brown has scored a very marked success with her last book

"Thyrza." Last week one of the 10 in greatest demand at Boston's public library. It has been ordered for Exeter's library. Miss Brown is now visiting Bermuda.

The meeting of the First Parish circle, scheduled for next Thursday evening, will be deferred until Thursday evening, April 15.

Edward W. Durant, Jr., a graduate of the Academy in 1884, has been appointed collector of the port of Charleston, S. C., much to the gratification of its citizens.

United States Senator Jacob H. Gallinger has secured the appointment of Maurice J. Dwyer a member of the capital police at Washington. Mr. Dwyer has assumed his office and is stationed in the new office building of the senate. Mr. Dwyer is a man in the prime of life and for several years efficiently served as a special officer on Exeter's police force. He has long been the Exeter court messenger and janitor of the courthouse and county records building. With Mrs. Dwyer he has had charge of the Cincinnati memorial hall since its opening, residing in an annex to the hall. Mr. Dwyer's father was a member of the crew of the Kearsarge in its engagement with the Alabama.

Kidney Troubles May be Sapping Your Life Away—People Have Learned This Fact

"Ben a healthy man or woman begins to run down without apparent cause, becomes weak, languid, depressed, suffers backache, headache, dizzy spells and urinary disorders, look to the kidneys for the cause of it all. Keep the kidneys well and they will keep you well. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys and keep them well. Here is Portsmouth testimony to prove it."

Mrs. Charles O. Hill, 34 Vantage St., Portsmouth, N. H., says: "A short time ago I was suddenly attacked with severe pains in my back. At times I could hardly stand on my feet and it was difficult for me to go up or down stairs. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised as an excellent remedy for such cases and as my husband had previously taken them with good results, I decided to give them a trial. I obtained a box at Philbrick's drug store and the result of their use was a cure. I have had no occasion to use a kidney remedy since that time and have no objection to giving my experience with Doan's Kidney Pills for publication."

BUSHMEN OF AUSTRALIA

Their Slow Business Methods and Mode of Living.

FIRE WITHOUT MATCHES

Burial Rites Similar to Those of African Tribes—Women Not Allowed to Speak for a Year After Being Widowed—Distinguishing Beauty Marks.

Anthropologists assume that there have been two epochs of immigration into Australia without being able to settle satisfactorily whence they came but agree that the first race were indigenous to the present race; that they migrated to the south at a time when there was continuity of land between Victoria and Tasmania; that the latter island became separated and Bass Strait appeared, leaving primitive race south of it. These savages knew nothing of shields or spears (spear-throwing implements), but they knew the art of making fire by friction between sticks of wood; had wooden clubs and spears with heads of same material as the shafts of flint or stone. They had rude stone axes of the so-called paleolithic (earliest) kind, and their crania indicated a grade of intellect but little above the simian family. The vanished race of Tasmanians were their descendants, for the last man and woman died within a few decades, and their portraits are shown in the books.

It is an interesting thing to see the natives produce fire in a remarkably short time by the use of the fire sticks, says a writer in the Pittsburgh Dispatch. I have seen only two kinds of sticks and have read of another method which is said to obtain among the interior tribes by rubbing a womerah, which is always of hard and tough wood across the edge of a shield which is generally of wood which is softer. The shields are concave—convex always, and the friction across the edges produce fire in two places instead of one, which would have its advantages of course.

The bushmen apparently know or care but little about personal adornment. The women wear necklaces of shells. The men dab their bodies with ochreous paints and stick feathers and down to their bodies for their magic ceremonies and both men and women decorate their skins with scars which are the product of incisions in the skin which are kept from healing for a certain length of time by burning with the end of a red hot stick or the insertion of foreign substances, causing a ridge-like effect supposed to be exactly the proper thing.

Men and women make long, parallel incisions clear across the abdomen, chest or around the shoulders. Boys after their initiation into the rank of manhood are scarred locally. They have a kind of tattoo scarring also which consists of multitudes of short incisions arranged in groups in certain patterns and may be placed indiscriminately in several parts of the body.

When a married man dies his wife makes a long central incision in her scalp extending from the occiput to the edge of the frontal bone. This is generally done with a flint knife and the same course is observed as in other incisions to prevent a too-ready healing. Girls after marriage and boys after reaching man's estate tie their hair with braids around the head so arranged that the mass of hair will extend obliquely upward and backward. By being retained constantly in this fashion the folds or corrugations of the scalp become permanent and the appearance is bizarre.

In alluding to the burial customs of the bushmen and telling of their being interred in a sitting posture, descriptions are mentioned in the funeral customs of a very few tribes living in the interior bordering the coast, who were known as River People.

One at least of these tribes placed their dead on a platform in a tree, much after the manner of some of the Indians of the West and Northwest.

There is a method for doing which would not be recognized as used in most countries and which was principally among the women and consisted in the removal of the two of the upper central incisors. When at La Perouse I inquired why so many of the people had been so many front teeth.

The authorities have made it clear. The dental operation is usually performed on the girl before marriage by another woman who places the patient to lie on the ground with her head in a depression made for the purpose. She places a stick against one of the teeth and another one held blow on the end of the stick with a bone stone is used to remove the tooth and produce the requisite cosmetic effect.

Then, it is said to be done by a man who has seen them with a stick which is used to be done in that line, but they also believe that it causes what they call a tooth to taste better.

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Health Talks

No man is stronger than his stomach. Make your stomach strong and you thereby fortify your system against the attacks of a long list of diseases which originate in the stomach and must be reached, if at all through the stomach. Thus torpid, or lazy liver, biliousness, dyspepsia, impure blood and various skin affections originate in weak stomach and consequent poor nutrition. The same is true of certain bronchial, throat and lung affections.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

Strengthens the stomach, invigorates the liver, purifies the blood making it rich, red and vitalizing and thereby curing the above and kindred affections.

It's foolish and often dangerous to experiment with new or but slightly tested medicines—sometimes urged upon the afflicted as "just as good" or better than "Golden Medical Discovery." The dishonest dealer sometimes insists that he knows what the proffered substitute is made of, but you don't and it is decidedly for your interest that you should know what you are taking into your stomach and system expecting it to act as a curative. To him its only a difference of profit. Therefore, insist on having Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. If not promptly supplied trade elsewhere.

REFUSED TO DO BUSINESS

AT THE MENTION OF THE LIQUOR BILL THE MEMBERS REFUSED TO WORK AND A ROLL CALL ENDED THE SESSION.

Concord, April 3.—Because a majority of the 169 representatives present in the house on Friday refused to allow any further consideration of the liquor bills which have thus far passed that body, the endeavor to make Friday a working day was defeated in the morning and a new fight between the license and no-license forces developed, which promised to dwarf all previous contests on the liquor question this year.

Thursday the house concurred in the senate amendment to the so-called "blanket bill." As the bill was originally drawn it would prohibit the issuance of a license to any person who had not resided in the town within one year. The senate amendment to the bill so that a person holding a druggist's license could do business in a town which he had been located for a period of ten years.

The amendment did not include holders of second class or saloon licenses.

When the senate message containing this amendment was reached in the first order of business of morning Dr. J. Somersworth moved that the rules be suspended and that a motion to reconsider be entertained.

When such suspension was granted Mr. J. Somersworth moved that the action of the house in concurring in the senate amendment be reconsidered.

Mr. Emerson opposed the motion. He said the matter had received careful attention by both branches, and this was simply an effort to "batten up."

Mr. J. Somersworth explained that it was his intent to ask a committee of conference to be named the bill as it was in substance to both bodies.

Mr. Dodge of Lincoln said he had been told that it was introduced to amend the bill as to allow persons living in adjacent towns to do business in a license town. He objected to "putting down the law."

Mr. J. Somersworth said the bill was intended to let down the bars, but to make the bill fair. The amendment simply provided that a man who had done business in a place ten years might receive the same privilege as residents.

Mr. J. Somersworth threw light on the subject of controversy by stating that the question arose over a man who held a druggist's license in Tilton, but who resided in Northfield.

Mr. Locke of Hinsdale charged that the Tilton man had caused more trouble than any other druggist in the town.

Mr. Preston of New Hampton remarked that it was hard to steer between the two interests involved in the proposition and give justice to all the other druggists in Tilton were to be allowed to do business, the gentleman in question, Mr. Herrick, should not be deluged from the same privilege simply because he lived over the line. It seemed like drawing the rules too straight. He declared he wanted to give the liquor dealers square treatment as well as the prohibitionists.

Mr. Ahera of Concord urged that a man who had been in business in ten years should have some consideration.

The Rev. Locke of Hinsdale said he wanted to make himself plain on the question and to stick to his text. If a man wanted to engage in the business he should live in the town where it was located.

Mr. Musgrave of Hanover took the ground that it would establish a custom. If the privilege was established for some, it would be a step to open the way for others. Mr. Adolph Wagner of Manchester said he had refrained from discussing any subject connected with the liquor interests, but he believed this was a matter calling for fair consideration. He said no one denied the evil of the liquor traffic, but he protested against intolerance and demanded justice in the administration of the license law. If the house wanted to make it class legislation, he said, they should do so openly.

Mr. Dodge of Lincoln said there was a difference between druggist and saloonist and expressed a fear that if the matter was put in the hands of a conference committee that the whole bill might be endangered. He protested against the motion to reconsider the bill.

Mr. Doe reminded the members that if the committee disagreed the house would still have a decisive voice in the matter, but his remarks were wasted. The previous question was ordered and the motion was defeated viva voce.

Mr. Doe then demanded a roll-call. He said the house had voted to make Friday a working day, and he had stayed over at a personal sacrifice to be present, but had found there were not enough members present to transact business, and he was in favor of putting the house on record and showing who were present and who were absent.

It was seen at a glance that the house was short of a quorum, but most of the members were desirous of putting through as much business as possible in order that the tables might be cleared for next week. They did not count upon Mr. Doe's doggedness of purpose. Mr. Emerson moved to table the bill and the motion, but was ruled out of order.

Mr. J. Somersworth appealed for a vote. He said a roll-call would adjourn the house and urged that unanimous consent be given to let the matter go over until Tuesday.

Mr. J. Somersworth declared that he would insist upon a roll-call unless unanimous consent was given to adopt the motion and appoint a committee of conference to act with the senate.

Mr. Musgrave charged that Mr. Doe was unfair. He said the house had given unanimous consent to suspend the rules and urged that Mr. Doe should reciprocate by withdrawing his call for a roll and allowing the house to proceed to business.

Mr. Doe replied that he appreciated the remarks, but that he had stayed over for a friendly session at a personal sacrifice and had not found enough members present to transact business legitimately. A majority of the house had voted to make Friday a working day, but had not shown up to make business possible. If the house could not do business legitimately it should adjourn. Further, he said several members stood ready to demand a roll call if he did not.

Mr. Woodbury of Woodstock pleaded as a citizen of New Hampshire for an opportunity to do business but Mr. Doe stood firm.

Mr. Wyman of Manchester suggested

ed that he might accomplish his purpose by postponing action until Tuesday, but the Hon. Mr. Doe would not yield. The roll call was taken and showed but 169 members present. Those present voted; Yes (to reconsider), 56; no, 113.

The revelation of no quorum adjourned the house, and a big batch of business was left on the table.

DREDGING PROVIDENCE HARBOR

The Providence Journal tells the following: Within the coming week the dredging of a 25-foot anchorage in the Providence harbor, providing four times the accommodations for shipping that obtained before work was begun, will be finished after almost continuous work for over three years.

The task completed, the bottom of the harbor will remain undisturbed until the present agitation for a 30-foot depth and the widening and straightening of the crooked channel to the bay near Field's Point shall have been favorably passed upon by Congress.

During the last three years $635,000 has been spent by the government in increasing the size of the anchorage basin here. The original plans approved by the congressional committee on rivers and harbors called for the expenditure of $700,000, but the work has been accomplished for $15,000 less than that amount.

The land locked harbor, 25 feet deep at low water, is now one of the best on the Atlantic coast. The troubles of former harbor masters, who were frequently in difficulties because anchored vessels swung across the channel, blocking navigation, will not bother future incumbents of the office.

A wide area, with plenty of room for vessels to anchor on either side of the main channel now extends from Fox Point to Kettle Point. Green Jacket Shoal, Long Red and the Mussel Ground have changed their locations. These shoals, which were wont to entrap in their soft, muddy embrace the keels of many goodly schooners, are now 15 miles away from the scene of their former depredations, in the deep water that flows over the dumping grounds below Hog Island.

Approximately 6,000,000 cubic yards of mud and clay have been dredged, poured into scows, towed down the bay and dumped. This vast amount of dredging could have been piled up ashore in one heap, would have cast in the shade Mount Hope, Rhode Island's noblest peak. Distributed evenly over the bottom down the bay, in water 60 feet deep its scenic possibilities are lost forever.

The former 300-foot channel at Sassafras Point was thus widened to 500 feet. Since the completion of the Long Red contract, the Packard Company has been engaged in "picking up" which is going over the bottom and dredging lumps which were left inadvertently to make a smooth and even surface.

Considering the expenditure of the vast sum of $635,000 here, it may be said that the city has been doubly benefited by this improvement, for at least $300,000 has been spent or banked here by the men who were behind not the guns, but the buckets.

HONORED BY THE POPE

Boston, April 3.—Pope Pius X has conferred the distinction of Knight commander of the order "Gregory the Great," upon Dr. William A. Dunn of this city, according to a cablegram from Rome received here today. Dr. Dunn is now visiting in Rome. He is widely known in medical and Catholic churches in this city. It is understood that this honor has been conferred upon no other resident of New England.

RAZOR GRINDERS TESTY.

Their Work is Trying and Dangerous and It Gets on Their Nerves.

The brawny arms of blacksmiths and the ill tempers of cooks are matters of common knowledge, but the man who grinds razors has a stronger arm than the blacksmith and a worse temper than the cook. All day he stands bearing his full strength against a razor held on a wheel which is whirling at the rate of several thousands revolutions a minute. He develops a grip of steel and an arm as hard as iron. His work is dangerous. A slip of a fraction of an inch and the razor may break into a thousand pieces and fly in as many different directions. Consequently the razor grinder's work gets on his nerves—hence the irritable temper.

In an upstairs room on lower Main street, says the Kansas City Star, two men are kept busy reducing heavy, old fashioned razors to the smaller proportions demanded by shavers of this generation. There is a little of the comic in their work. The ancient blades brought to them are styled "grandfathers" razors because practically every customer explains that the implement was used by his grandfather's great uncle or other ancestor, and that the metal is of a very superior quality—"the kind you can't buy nowadays."

"Better razors are made and sold now than ever before," Louis Heckel said. "But I suppose that the mental suggestion a man gets in using a razor that his ancestors stood for causes him to experience less pain when it pulls. We have to treat those grandfather razors with great reverence in the presence of the owners."

"Grinding razors is work at once delicate and strenuous. The few men who have mastered the art are an eccentric lot, so we are compelled to humor them in their oddities. They are highly priced and hard to find."

"The room in our shop where razors are ground has not been entered in years by a person other than a member of the firm or an employee. The grinders will not tolerate visitors."

"The razor grinding art is almost monopolized by Germans. There are not more than half a dozen American grinders in America. The grinders used in the work are nearly all made in France. They are a patent composition that absorbs water. This quality helps to prevent the razors becoming too hot. As an additional preventive a stream of water is kept flowing on the blades. Even then a razor is sometimes "burnt" and the temper of the metal ruined." About fifty different sized grinders and leather rimmed wheels are used in reducing an old fashioned "bottlecase" to a "hollow ground." The coarser work is done on grinders and the finishing on leather wheels all are fitted to the same revolving axis. A dozen razors can be ground about as cheaply as one, as the work is done in lots of one dozen. This way labor is saved in adjusting a numerous sized wheels and stones.

Harvard House at Stratford.

The restoration has been completed of the John Harvard house in Stratford-on-Avon. This house is one of the most interesting of all the relics of Shakespeare's time. It stands in the High street, opposite the Corn Exchange. It was built in 1596, and was the home of the mother of John Harvard, the founder of Harvard University, Cambridge, Mass.

The house will now be preserved as a public institution, but it had a very narrow escape from destruction at the hands of the vandals. It is really surprising that it has escaped for more than 300 years. Until recently it was used as an auctioneer's office and adapted for business purposes. Some former occupant had plastered over all the fine wood carving of the interior, and the front in the ground floor was partly bricked up and a modern door made in the center. The building was fast falling into a state of dilapidation through neglected drainage and other causes.

In a few years time it would have collapsed. It was bought by Nelson Morris of Chicago who commissioned Miss Correll to secure it and to have it restored. The work of restoration has now been completed. The utmost care has been taken to preserve all the old things, the oak woodwork the carvings which were covered up with plaster or painted, and the public can now form an opinion of what the house was like when it was built.

A new floor had to be made—one which harmonizes with the style of the house and looks quite Elizabethan. There are two rooms on each floor. Nothing has been added to the old woodwork except when it was absolutely necessary for safety and in providing missing articles. The woodwork has not been painted but only carefully cleaned. The fittings or gaslights in the house are iron work such as might have been used for lanterns in the days of Shakespeare, and the furniture and fittings of the rooms will be appropriate.

John Harvard's house must have been a familiar object in Stratford to Shakespeare, and its preservation will be greatly appreciated by all lovers of the poet. It is probable that the house may be used as an American club. In any case, it has taken its place as one of the public sights of Stratford.

MORE TROUBLE

COAL HANDLING ROADS WANT A BETTER RATE FOR HAULING COAL WEST.

Pittsburg, April 3.—The eight coal carrying-roads from western Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia to the lakes have delivered their ultimatum to the coal operators. The figures were handed quickly to the operators in the meeting at New York on Wednesday and made public here by some of the returning railroad officials. The railroads announce that unless the coal producers accept the rates which have now been laid down not an ounce of their coal will be moved to the lakes after May 15, the date the lakes season will open, so far as this district is concerned. The following schedule of rates has now been given to operators effective May 15, for them to either accept or have their coal unhauled. From the Pittsburg district to the Lakes, rates remain unchanged, 88 cents per ton; from Ohio district to the Lakes, rates to remain unchanged, 85 cents; from Fairmont, W. Va., to the Lakes, rate $1 per ton against the former rate of 87 cents; from the Kanawha and Thacker (W. Va.) districts to the Lakes $1.06-1-4 per ton against the former rate of 97 cents; from the Pocahontas and New River (W. Va.) districts to the Lakes, $1.21 against the former rate of $1.12. The operators have promised a decision inside of six days.

Arrived—Chester, Birmingham and Salem at Newport; Dixie at Pensacola; Nina at Annapolis; Buffalo at Mare Island; Charleston, Cleveland, Denver and Galveston at Shanghai.

Sailed—Justin, San Francisco for Magdalena Bay; Cheyenne, Santa Barbara for San Pedro.

The Illinois placed in reserve at the navy yard, Philadelphia.

An effort will be made by the navy department to ascertain whether it is practical for any firm other than the Bliss-Leavitt company to manufacture torpedoes in the United States. Secretary Meyer has appointed a board composed of Captain Frank F. Fletcher, Lieutenant Commander Hutch I. Cone and Lieutenant Commander Frederick N. Freeman to consider various matters in relation to torpedoes available for use in the navy. This board will make a report upon the relative merits of the Bliss-Leavitt, the Whitehead and the Schwarzkopff torpedoes. The board will meet in Washington and will begin its work promptly. Its report, it is expected, will settle many controverted questions in relation to the relative merits of various torpedoes.

Several new locomotives and box cars are shortly to be delivered to the Boston and Maine railroad.

Orders issued today by the head of the manufacturing department directs that J. M. Bickford, for many years foreman laborer in steam engineering, will hereafter be in direct charge of work done by the several crews about the yard. He will have as assistants James H. McWilliams of the public works department. Frank M. Bond of the manufacturing department. Mr. Bond and McWilliams will attend to such duties as they have had in the past to a great extent but every movement will come under the supervision of Mr. Bickford.

A spur track extension is being put in between the boiler shop and pattern shop where a large crew of prisoners are now engaged in the work of grading.

NEW KEEPER OF LIGHTHOUSE

Capt. Leander White, keeper of the lights at Cape Elizabeth, will succeed Joshua K. Card as keeper of the Fort Point light at New Castle.

Mr. White, who is a native of that town, was for many years keeper of Whalesback light and also of the Boon Island light, and has been at Cape Elizabeth nearly a dozen years. He will assume his new duties as soon as his successor is appointed at the Cape.

MUSIC HALL

Last Day of This Week's Vaudeville Show

Today is the last chance to see this week's vaudeville show at Music Hall. Hindoo Sam and his son, the magicians who have made such a good impression in this city, and Carroll the comedian, will close their engagement tonight. Mr. Carroll opened Friday night and made a hit. He is a good comedian and an accomplished musician.

"Art" Spaulding the tenor soloist has already become a favorite with the lovers of illustrated songs. He has a remarkable good voice and a fine expression, two qualities seldom found in a moving picture house. Today Mr. Spaulding will sing "True Blue" and on Monday he will sing two songs "It's Always Nice Weather Indoors" and "I Remember You."

The moving pictures are some of the best and cannot fail to please. For next week the management offers a bigger and stronger show than has yet been given.

YOUNG HAMROCKS WON

The Saturday morning baseball game at the city yard was between the Young Shamrocks and the Young Allarounds with the former winning by six to three.

The Shamrock players: Mates pitcher, Kelechr catcher, N. Grady first base, P. Reardon second base, McCabe third base, J. McDonald short stop, P. Gray left field, D. Reardon middle field, Moran right field.

The Young Allaround players: Barrett and Smart pitchers, Davis catcher, Moran first base, Clark second base, Moody third base, Smart and Barrett short stops, Long left field, Connors middle field, H. McDonald right field.

The excellent playing of Mates, J. McDonald and P. Reardon were the features of the game. Barrett's arm gave out and he had to be replaced in the box by Smart.

ONE CAR WRECKED

A Freight Train Was in Trouble At Greenland

Freight No. 241, East-bound, over the eastern division of the Boston and Maine railroad was in a mix-up at Greenland on Friday. While passing over a cross-over, the center pin of a flat car gave way and the car left the rail and piled up in such a manner as to block both main line tracks. The wrecking crew from Portsmouth was sent out and had the mess cleared up before any other train was delayed.

OWNERS OF PIANOS

Do not think because your piano is old that it is all worn out and worthless. If the sounding board and iron plate are intact I can rebuild the instrument and restore the original tone and touch, often improving the same. Remember I do no repair work but thoroughly rebuild the instrument, replacing all worn-out parts with new. Player Pianos and Cabinet Players of all makes thoroughly cleaned and regulated. Organs put in first class shape at moderate prices. Instruments examined and prices quoted free of charge.

All orders by telephone or mail will receive prompt attention.

Leave orders at B. M. Tilton's fruit store, Market street. C. S. Benjamin, Piano Rebuilder. Tel. 326-5.

IN THE MOONLIGHT

License Commissioners Doing a Hike by Night

The license commissioners have made several trips about the state in the interest of the liquor question but they evidently wanted to see Portsmouth by moonlight when they appeared in the red light district on Friday evening.
